DR. J. S. HOUGHTON
GREAT DYSPEPSIA CURE
PEPSIN

[illegible][illegible]

Professor Duggan, of the Jefferson College, Philadelphia, in his great work on Human Physiology, says more than fifty pages to show that the stomach does not secrete anything like Brunton's, or the Gastrin obtained from the living human stomach and fed to animals are well known. "In all cases," he says, "it is centred as perfectly in the artificial as in the natural secretion."

Dr. John W. Draper, Professor of Chemistry at the Medical College of the University of New York, writes: "Your Book of Artificial Digestion would be perhaps a valuable addition to the literature of medicine; it is now universally admitted that it may be done."

Dr. Carpenter's standard work on Physiology, published by Appleton & Co., New York, contains in the Library of Hygiene, Chapter IV, page 107, the following statement: "All our evidence similar to that respecting the remarkable digestive power of Tepalcoatl is in favor of Brunton's theory." He adds further the fact that it may be readily separated from the

The fact that an Artificial Digestive Fluid, or Juice, perfectly resembling the natural Juice, is used, prepared, does not admit of question. The only is, that it has not before been applied to the cure of dion and Dyspepsia—so naturally does such a use of the spirit.

Dr. HOGGARTH'S PLEPSIN has produced the most lous effects, in curing cases of Asthma, Emphysema, and Consumption. It is able to give the lungs of cases in the limits of fifteen to twenty, but authenticated certificates have been given for Two Hundred Remarkable Cures, in Philadelphia, New York, and Boston alone. These were all desperate cases, and the cures were not only wonderful but permanent.
